Vienna in Figures 2009: Economy and Business

Business Location Vienna: Competitive factors in Comparison

German/English

ISBN 978-3-901945-05-2

The present publication describes Vienna in its role as a business hub. In addition to data from official statistics it includes studies, indicators and surveys from other sources, thus offering a comprehensive picture of the economic situation. Comparative statistics on purchasing power, consumer behaviour, the labour market, tourism, education and training are supplemented with data on the quality of living and general resident satisfaction in major European cities.

Vienna in Figures 2007: Employment

New types of employment: new and traditional types of employment in comparison

ISBN 978-3-901045-02-1

This edition focuses on the new types of employment. Approximately 85,000 employment contracts (i.e. 9% of all contracts) in Vienna are currently new types of employment including minimal employment as well as freelance employment contracts and new self-employed persons. The publication poses questions such as "Which jobs are typical for the new types of employment?", "Are the careers in the new types of employment satisfactory?" and "Are these jobs sustainable?".
