What are your rights?

You have the right

- › to apply for the benefit
- › to get information on the application procedure
- › to describe your emergency situation
- › to obtain a decision (if you have submitted a complete application)
- › to object against the decision

What are your duties?

Duty to co-operate

You have the duty to

- › submit all required documents,
- › answer all questions completely and truthfully and
- › claim any payments due to you (maintenance/alimony and similar payments).

Otherwise the benefit may be refused or stopped. You will receive no back pay for the time period the benefit was refused or stopped.

Perform work

Persons who are fit to work have to accept any reasonable job offer or participate in extra training or retraining or in work integration measures. They also have to keep appointments with information and support services. If you refuse to perform work or participate in work integration measures, the minimum standard for covering your cost-of-living will be gradually reduced

- › by 25% for a period of one month,
- › by 50% for a period of two months if you continue your refusal, and
- › by 100% for the period of your refusal, should you persist in your refusal.

Applicants 18–25 years old

Persons 18–25 years old are subject to different minimum standards. People who attend school, vocational training, training courses or are in employment will receive higher benefits than people who do not actively co-operate. Applicants are given an orientation period of four months to participate in a training or further training course. Otherwise the benefit will be calculated on the basis of a lower minimum standard.

Sustainable integration into the labour market: “Employment Bonus Plus” (“Beschäftigungsbonus plus”)

If you are in long-term employment (continued employment for one year or half a year for people under 25 years of age), you are eligible to apply for a one-time payment amounting to 8% of twelve times the minimum standard granted to single persons.

Employment bonus

Bonus payments (holiday and Christmas bonuses) from earned income will not be included in the calculation of the basic benefit amount.

Duty to notify

You must notify the following changes immediately:

- › changes to your income, assets, family or housing situation
- › changes to your rent
- › stays outside of Vienna, stays abroad, hospital stays, stays at health resorts or other health facilities, prison stays, etc.
- › education or training, training courses of the Public Employment Service Austria, integration measures
- › citizenship and/or residence permit

If you do not notify these changes, you may have to repay benefits.

Duty to integrate

You must comply with the duty to integrate as defined under Section 6 of the Integration Act:

- › submit the signed integration declaration (“Integrationserklärung”)
- › participate in and complete German, values and orientation courses

If you do not comply with your duty to integrate, the minimum standard for covering your cost-of-living will be gradually reduced by up to 100%.

Disability supplement

If you submit a disabled person’s pass as defined under Section 40 of the Federal Disability Act, you are eligible for a monthly supplement of 18% of the minimum standard granted to single persons. It is not possible to receive both the supplement and special payments (Sec. 8, para. 4 of the Vienna Basic Benefit Act). If you are eligible for both, you will get the higher disability supplement.
